

SIX TO DISCUSS MEXICAN PEACE

Commissioners Will Begin Deliberations Thursday.

ARMISTICE EXTENDED AGAIN

Hitch May Come if Federal Representatives Do Not Bear Full Power to Act for Government—Military Operations.

El Paso, May 3.—For the federals, Francisco Carbajal, judge of the supreme court of Mexico; Miguel Ahumada, governor of Chihuahua; Rafael Hernandez, attorney, friend of Jose Yves Limantour.

For the insurgents, Dr. Francisco Vasquez Gomez, former candidate for vice president; Pino Suarez, provisional governor of Yucatan; Francisco I. Madero, father of the insurgents' leader.

These are the men who will discuss Mexican peace terms. When Judge Carbajal and Governor Ahumada arrive on Thursday the peace negotiations can begin. Meantime, the armistice is to be extended for another five days from Wednesday.

The insurgents will insist that the federal commissioners have absolute power to act for the government and if they do not bear this power there will be a hitch in negotiations until they can get it.

Insurgents rode into Chihuahua and fired a number of promiscuous shots, but were driven out by federals. Insurrecto officials were unable to account for it and said it must have been a small band of drunken rowdies without any official connection with the revolutionists.

All railroad lines south of Chihuahua are still tied up and the country in the region of Torreón is reported one hour in federal hands and next in charge of the insurgents. The insurgents have looted over $100,000 worth of goods, including arms and ammunition, in the past ten days in towns in the region of Torreón.

Durango, in the state of Durango, it is reported, is in rebel hands, but at insurgent headquarters they have no such advice, neither have they advice that their men have been forced to leave Gomez Palacio.

MEXICAN SITUATION SERIOUS

President Taft Does Not Place Much Faith in Immediate Peace.

Washington, May 3.—Confidential government reports which are being received at the White House from Mexico indicate that conditions in that country are still serious. It is said that the insurgents are making preparations for a more aggressive campaign. The peace news from El Paso which followed the signing of an armistice by the federals and the rebels does not appear to have relieved President Taft's apprehensions over the situation. The impression given at the White House is that the lull in the hostilities is entirely superficial and does not signify any substantial change in internal conditions in Mexico.

The White House has received no reply from President Diaz to the request of President Taft that federal troops be kept away from the American border during the progress of a battle.

WRECK IS REPORTED DUE TO NEGLIGENCE ON PART OF OFFICIALS

Trenton, N. J., May 3.—As a result of the wreck Saturday at Martin's Creek there is said to be a possibility of a serious shake-up in the management of the Belvidere division of the Pennsylvania railroad. It is said that the cause of the disaster was a failure on the part of officials of the company to announce the approach of the special train.

Workmen repairing the tracks where the accident occurred are said to have been wholly unaware of the presence of the special in their vicinity and employees declare that the rails were actually being taken up when the engine bore down upon them. Some of the workmen, it is said, even had narrow escapes themselves from injury.

WRECK DEAD IN ONE CASKET

Bones of Six Teachers Returned to Utica, N. Y.

Utica, N. Y., May 3.—A special car over the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western brought to this city in a single casket the charred bodies of six of the Utica young women who were cremated in the train wreck at Martin's Creek, N. J., Saturday.

Identification of the remains being absolutely impossible the bones will be interred in one casket and it is probable a granite shaft provided by the school children and by popular subscription will be erected over the grave. A public funeral for the victims is under consideration.

MINSTREL SHOW TO BE A WINNER

The big minstrel show to be given by the men of the Normal College at Normal College this year bids fair to surpass the efforts of the students along this line in other years. The jokes of these black-faced artists are few and up to the minute and the program of clever stunts are sure to be popular with the audience. A number of surprises in the olio part are promised which are sure to prove mirth-provokers.

The show will be given two evenings, Thursday and Friday, May 4 and 5.

STUDENTS HONORED

While Gertrude Sherzer and Florence Gorton have been announced valedictorian and salutatorian respectively, there are five other high school students whose high marks entitle them to mention, and their names were read recently in chapel. They are Alice Parsons, Mildred Pahl, Caroline Hubbard, Paul Ehman and Vera Mowrer.

The juniors of the high school gave a party last Friday evening at Rowina.

NORMAL FARES PRETTY WELL AFTER ALL

After all the adventures and vicissitudes which have attended the Michigan Normal College appropriation bill at Lansing, the situation today, with the whole matter closed finally up, is much better than anybody could have predicted. Shorn of sensational embellishment, cleared of speculation and reduced to figures, the facts as given out this morning by President Jones in an interview to a Press reporter are these: Appropriation for current expenses for each of the two years, $165,000, which sum is larger by $20,000 than ever before and takes care very satisfactorily of the natural increase of students, etc. $14,000 for the completion of the heating plant. The governor cut off $3,000 from original amount, stating that the college could get along with fewer boilers until the advent of the new building. $10,975 has been appropriated for repairs. In this item the governor had cut out $5,000, thus making his vetoes amount to $8,000.

This $8,000 and the $125,000 for a new auditorium represents therefore the only items which the Normal lost, and the loss of the auditorium had been a foregone conclusion for so long that it had ceased to be seriously worked for. What President Jones was striving for was not merely to save the $125,000 for the auditorium but to get the governor to sign a bill that was valid. It seems that the bill which he was signing was illegal and would not have carried appropriations for the college.

It developed that through an error on the part of a girl in the office, the auditorium appropriation for $125,000 had been omitted from the bill presented the governor. In order that errors might be corrected and a perfectly legitimate bill signed by the governor the office force was called together at the capitol late Monday evening (the young woman who had made the error had gone to the theatre and had to be sent for), a new bill was got together according to the record, this new bill was hurriedly printed and at 12:05 Tuesday noon the governor had signed it, with the vetoes aforesaid.

When it is considered that owing to the address and devotion of President Jones an item of $8,000 instead of $53,000 has been lost to the college, it will be seen that in the face of the governor's declared policy of economy the Michigan State Normal College came through its Lansing experiences exceedingly well.

TEACHERS AND SENIORS PROFIT BY GOOD TALK

The public school teachers assembled with the seniors of the Normal Tuesday afternoon at their weekly lecture hour to listen to an address by Dr. L. E. Emerson on "The new movement in psychology." This new movement is distinguished for its recognition of the large part which feelings play in concert, rather than emphasizing the power of the intellect alone. This contention Dr. Emerson illustrated by a number of examples drawn from his own and others' experiences.

MORE MEN SAID TO BE

IMPLICATED BY M'MANIGAL

IN DYNAMITING CASE

Los Angeles, May 3.—There is a stir of suppressed excitement in Los Angeles, for the hint has leaked out from the authorities that important developments in the way of the arrest of more men in connection with the dynamiting for which John J. McManigal, James B. McManigal and Ortie E. McManigal are held in jail here may be looked for within thirty-six hours. These men are said to be two labor leaders of the Pacific coast, one of whom is especially prominent, and the others are two easterners, around whom the filaments of the web spun by the detectives have been thrown. Their identity was disclosed to the police by McManigal. No definite word has been given out as yet regarding the exact charge against these suspects, but Sheriff Hamell has admitted that something was likely to break very soon and that it would be well for those interested to keep a close watch on the proceedings of his office.

JOHN F. DIETZ PUT ON TRIAL

His Wife and Son Are Also Made Defendants.

ARE CHARGED WITH MURDER

Surety Companies Refuse Longer To Be Responsible for Dietz and He Is Turned Over to the Custody of the Sheriff.

Hayward, Wis., May 3.—John F. Dietz, his wife and son, Leslie Dietz, were placed on trial here before Judge Alexander H. Reid in the circuit court. They are jointly charged with the murder of Oscar Harp, a deputy sheriff, who was one of a posse that besieged the Dietz cabin at Thornapple dam last October, and who was found dead after the smoke of battle had cleared away.

At that time John F. Dietz was wanted on a warrant charging assault with intent to kill a man with whom he had had a fight in Winter, Wis. Dietz shot the man, but did not kill him. There were also several other warrants out for Dietz and for a number of years he had defied the officers and boasted that no one could safely attempt to serve a warrant on him.

The trouble with the officers grew out of a dispute Dietz had with a lumber company which built a dam in the Thornapple river near the Dietz home. The floodwaters, Dietz said, damaged his land. He could not get a settlement out of the lumber company that satisfied him, so he destroyed the dam and held up a large cut of logs for a year or more. The company was obliged to haul the logs off with teams.

When court opened the Illinois Surety company of Milwaukee and the indemnitors who reinsured Dietz's $40,000 bond announced to the court that they refused longer to be responsible for him and he was given into the custody of Sheriff Clark.

R. H. Mason of Milwaukee said that the action was taken to protect the surety company and the indemnitors against any untoward move on the part of Dietz. When Dietz was informed of the action he remarked: "I suppose it's up to me to do it." The bonds of the other members of the Dietz family were not revoked.

The case of Mrs. Bert Sevey vs. the Ypsilanti Milling Co. in which Mrs. Sevey is suing the company for the price of a horse which the one considers worth $85 and the other $25, which was tried before Justice Stadtmiller Monday has been taken under advisement for a few days by the justice before judgment is rendered.

W.C.T.U. WOMEN HOLD IMPORTANT MONTHLY MEETING

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. A. E. Morrison, May second, for their regular monthly business meeting. After the opening exercises the superintendents of the various departments were confirmed by the Union and the president appointed Mrs. Dora Cole, Mrs. Etta Ford and Mrs. Ada Sanderson on the social committee for the ensuing year.

Mrs. Minnie Alban gave an excellent report of the district convention of the W. C. T. U. held at Hillsdale, April 11, 12, and 13, in which she stated that Washtenaw had given 50 glasses of jelly and $3.10 in money for the flower mission work for the past year. Hillsdale had sent 1,700, 020 postcards and letters of sympathy, had helped pay for a home for a widow in need and given fruit and vegetables to the poor. The Lenawee county school children, she said, have to their credit in the School Savings Bank $7,059.70. She also stated that the district president in her report at the state convention last year in Port Huron, reported that $700 was raised as a legislative fund to help make Michigan white. An excellent address was given by Dr. Dickie of Albion Wednesday evening which was of great interest to his audience. The medal contest held Friday evening in which six contestants took part was an exceedingly close one, four of them standing equal in number of points.

A number of plans are being worked out by the Union in the way of improvements among them being an addition to the library. The ladies are planning also to give a supper in the near future, also arrangements are being made for a lunch counter to be conducted by the ladies at the time of the Soldiers' encampment in June. The names of the superintendents of the various departments are as follows:

Evangelistic, Mrs. Rebecca Whitcomb; flower mission, Mrs. Stark; scientific temperance instruction, Mrs. Marvin; medal contest, Mrs. Olive Alban; railroad work, Mrs. Ann A. Gee; fair and open air meetings, Mrs. Elva Green, Mrs. Minnie Alban; anti-narcotics, Mrs. Elgin Darling; press, Mrs. Jennie McIntire; medical temperance, Mrs. Kate Schlicht; parliamentary, Mrs. Martha Warner; red letter days, Mrs. Minnie Alban; franchise, Mrs. Minnie Alban; legislation and petitions, Mrs. Elva Green, Mrs. Dora Cole; loyal temperance legion, Mrs. Bunton; young people's branch, Mrs. Etta Ford; work among colored people, Mrs. Sherman; literature, Miss Dora Harris; Sunday school work, Mrs. Reid Darling; musical director, Mrs. Jennie McIntire.

The next meeting will be the regular "Mothers' Meetings" at which time a special program with music will be presented.

NORMAL TO BE IN ATHLETIC LIGHTS

Saturday is to be a full day at the Normal. The Normal base ball team, tennis players and debating team will meet the corresponding teams of M. A. C. The tennis match will be held in the morning west of the gymnasium, the baseball game in the afternoon, and at night the two debating teams will meet in Normal hall.

On account of the inclement weather the work of playing off a tournament by the tennis teams in order to choose the teams that will meet M. A. C. Saturday, has been seriously delayed. There are ten candidates among the men to make the team of two. Among the candidates for the girls' teams are Chloe Todd, Gertrude Ellis, Lucile Brooks and Martha Gray. If the weather should not be suitable for trying out the teams there is a possibility that the date of the tennis match may be postponed until later.

FIRST RECITAL AT NORMAL HALL IS MUCH ENJOYED

The first of the series of graduating recitals scheduled for May was given Tuesday evening by Miss Mabel M. Barbour, pianist, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Pease.

The first number on the interestingly composed program was the allegro affettuoso movement from Schumann's concerto in A minor for two pianos, and the second piano part was played admirably by Minor White of the conservatory faculty. This concerto displayed most convincingly the range of Miss Barbour's power, for it possesses tremendous difficulty. Her playing was expressive in every detail of phrase and run and thrill and the brilliant passages with which the work abounded were executed with astonishing ease.

Mr. Pease in his finely musicianly way sang a group of delightful songs,—the second, "Autumn," by Mallinson, carrying a peculiar charm with its eloquently recurrent "Hence? Hence?"—but found he could not comfortably complete his share of the program, owing to an attack of bronchitis from which he was suffering. The announcement that Mrs. Pease, who had played his accompaniments, would sing in his stead was received with warm appreciation of the chance of again hearing Mrs. Pease's beautiful voice, though she herself had been out of her usual voice for a number of weeks.

The second group, consisting of an aria in F and a fugue in D by Bach and a capriccio by Scarlatti arranged by Tausig, were quite different in effect from her first. The classic finish and staidness of the aria were well maintained by Miss Barbour and her broad tone exactly suited the character of the piece. The fugue with its much embellished motif and the light capriccio were delightfully played.

Mrs. Pease's first song was an aria from "Nadeshda," an opera by A. Goring Thomas. Her art was most impressive in this lovely tragic song. Mrs. Pease also sang "I am Thy Harp," by Huntington Woodman, "Unmindful of the Roses," by Schneider, and "Will o' the Wisp," by Spross. Several times Mrs. Pease was recalled by the audience whom she has always delighted.

One of Chopin's most attractive preludes is certainly the one in A flat which Miss Barbour chose for her program. Its spirit of a kind of gay serenity is extremely fascinating, and this, as well as an improvisation by MacDowell and a Marche Mignonne by Poldini abounding in a graceful witchery, were played by Miss Barbour very cleverly. Mendelssohn's Bongo Sapphiccio, one of the pianist's very strong numbers completed the program, which had been provocative of pleasure throughout its charming length.

FIGHT ON CLOSED SHOP

Employers and Unions Strengthening Forces for Siege.

Contest May Be Stubborn One and Important Issue Be Fought to a Finish.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 3.—With 150 concerns in Grand Rapids, employing labor, declaring for an open shop, the forces opposed to the striking furniture men were strengthened.

While the unions, not only those connected with the furniture industry but all, have been industriously adding members to their rolls, the employers' association has also been busy, and every concern which employs labor is being importuned to line up against organized labor so far as the closed shop is concerned.

The executive committee of the association is holding meetings daily at which employers are called in and the plans of the organization explained. The contention of the employers is not to go jointly into the matter of wages and hours, but to stick to the open shop idea, maintaining the right to employ either union or non-union labor.

About eighty electrical workers struck for an eight-hour day and 40 cents an hour. Ten firms are affected by the strike. Three signed the scale presented by the union.

In the furniture strike, the manufacturers have announced that they want men with which to operate their shops, that local men will be given first chance, after which outside labor will be importuned to come here. The unions declare that they have the fifty-nine plants so effectively tied up that the employers will be unable to operate them with all of the men they can get here and elsewhere.

"PROFITBRINGERS."

We chanced to notice two items recently in the agricultural press which we feel ought to be emphasized. The first was that by careful investigation it has been ascertained that it costs a farmer $75 to raise a cow or a steer to the age of 2 years. With reference to the cow, the question immediately arises, Then what possible profit can there be for a farmer to raise a cow which he can only get, say, $40 or $50 for when she is two years old, or even four or six, and a good cow at that, according to the popular notion. And the further suggestion is, Can he afford to raise that kind of cow, and can he afford to raise steers at all?

The other item was a communication from a farmer out in Iowa to the "Farmer and Breeder," from which we quote: "One of my neighbors owns a large herd of Holstein cows. He is making yearly records. One of his cows has a yearly record of 21,353.9 pounds of milk and 657.34 pounds of butter fat. This cow's milk tested 3.07 per cent of fat as an average for a year. Suppose this man were selling 4 per cent milk. Here is what he could do: He could run enough milk through the separator, put the cream in the remainder to bring it up to the required 4 per cent, or any higher per cent his customers might demand. He would then have 16,425 pounds of 4 per cent milk to sell to his customers and have left 4,928 pounds of skimmed milk enough to give a calf 20 pounds per day for six months and still have 1,322 pounds left, or enough to feed three pigs 4 pounds each day for 110 days. It is not the percentage of fat in the milk that counts, but the total amount of fat that is produced. Net profit is what we want."

It is quite immaterial what breed of dairy cattle produces the result if it produces the result. The fact which seems patent and which farmers must needs realize, in order to lessen their losses and convert losses into gains, is that it costs almost as much to keep a $40 or $50 cow as it does one that is worth $100 or $200 or even $500; and it costs just as much to keep the calf of a $40 cow as it does a $100 cow, while one may be worth from $12 to $15, and the other farmer refers to probably produces as much as four of the ordinary cows throughout the country. It is apparent where the profit lies in the keeping of this kind of cows.

The particular variety which he refers to hails from Holland, where they have been bred yearly and continuously for 600 years. We quote the following statistical statements from the report of Consul Mahin, regarding Holland: "Holland, with an area of about 12,000 square miles, has more than 1,000,000 milk cows. Milk retails at four cents per quart is a universal beverage, more being consumed than in any other country. Yet Holland dairies turn out 143,000,000 pounds of butter and 176,000,000 pounds of cheese annually."

We must credit the governor with keeping faith with his pruning knife. It is to be sincerely hoped that spring may force the sap without further delay, so that pruning must needs stop. But so far as we are concerned, about all the damage has been done which can be. The governor has kept his pre-election promise—but he could have broken it with profit to the state. We doubt if the people at large, if they understand the urgency of the needs of their state institutions, will endorse the governor's veto of their will as expressed by the legislature. Michigan needs all the progressiveness in the saddle which characterizes the governor on many other civic lines if she is to recover her waning educational prestige in the face of the progressive competition of Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa.

PITIES WEALTHY BOYS.

They Miss the Real Blood Training of Self Making, Says Packer.

"My boys are to inherit wealth, but they will be the sadder for it. They are missing the real blood training of self making."

Samuel W. Allerton of Chicago, a banker, economist and champion of woman suffrage, is sorry that his sons are not to have the hard knocks in climbing to fortune which he suffered, talking on the benefit of battling with the world, he said:

"The boy who is up against making his own way is far the most self-reliant. The scions of the wealthy are satisfied for the most part to be nonentities."

"If every man and woman in the world does his and her duty every child will be taught to save. They will thus be taught to build character and credit. If the wealthy do their duty by their servants they will give them every opportunity to save. My wife and I have taught our servants to save. They all have from $2,000 to $5,000 invested in stock which pays 6 per cent."

HER FLESH AS BAIT.

Woman Resorts to Heroic Means to Obtain Food for Children.

Fish dealers confirm a story that an Indian woman living on a small island north of Vancouver, B. C., cut a piece of flesh from her body in an effort to procure food for her children when they were starving.

The woman and children were in desperate straits. The last scrap of food had been eaten the day before, and there was no game, although the woman searched until her strength gave out.

In this condition she cut a strip of flesh from her body. This flesh was used as bait to catch fish and thus sustained life until aid arrived.

WATER AS ANAESTHETIC.

Being Used Successfully at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Lukewarm water is now being used as an anaesthetic in most of the operations for appendicitis at Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore.

In an operation for appendicitis, said one of the surgeons, all that is necessary is to inject lukewarm water in sufficient quantities under the skin in the vicinity of the part operated on.

"We have obtained great results through the use of water and in most cases would rather use it than a drug."

While the operation is in progress the patient is said to feel no pain and to be fully conscious.

Fifty cents invested in a pair of rubbers may save $5 in doctor bills, with plenty of misery thrown in.

There is no better material of which to build hen or hog house than the clay hollow block. Its use means that the structure will be both dry and warm.

President Taft is to be commended for refusing to pardon W. N. Jones, a rich business man of Portland, Ore., who was recently sentenced to serve four months in prison and pay a fine of $2,000 for the part he had in land frauds in the northwest.

A tablespoonful of spirits of camphor stirred in a gallon of water makes a very good solution with which to spray plants that are afflicted with the green lice. This spray fixes the lice and does not harm the foliage plants to which it is applied.

While other members of the animal kingdom may fall to multiply as nature intended, it is pretty safe to assume that the old frosted cared brindle tabby cat will some warm morning soon lead her bevy of kittens from some well protected and secluded spot. This kitten crop is one that is not reduced by frost, blight or drought.

Kansas legislators are to be commended for a piece of legislation lately passed, at once sensible and merciful, which makes it possible to use the idle convicts in the state penitentiaries in the building of a highway from Leavenworth to Kansas City, Kan. The taxpayers will get a return from the labor of the convicts, and the latter will be the better for the physical exercise and fresh air which they will get.

In contrast to the idea—all too prevalent—that one cannot make money raising stock on less than from 100 to 200 acres may be cited the experience of a Pennsylvania domicile who kept thirty head of stock on fifteen acres, growing all the roughage for them on this area, and who by prudent management was able to pay off a mortgage of $7,200 on the place in the course of seven years. To add to his troubles, the farm was badly run down at the time he bought it. While the account does not state, it is fair to assume that at least half of the stock kept consisted of dairy cows, by the keeping of which the building up of the fertility of the soil was an easy matter.

In all the territory where soft coal is relied upon chiefly as fuel for the kitchen stove it is the very bane of cleanly housewives, smearing their dishes, soiling the wall paper, dirtying floors and blackening wearing apparel. The chief fault with this kind of fuel is that under the conditions which usually prevail a complete combustion of the coal is not secured—that is, the smoke and soot are not consumed, but clog and retard the stove, the pipes and flues. While the trouble cannot be entirely done away, it can be materially improved by replenishing the stove more frequently and breaking the coal up into finer pieces. If at hand it will be found a great help to use either coals or wood with the soft coal. In some localities it is possible to get coke from which the oils and soot cooking elements have been largely removed. This makes a very hot fire and will have to be watched closely and renewed quite frequently.

It is only recently that the full value of rape as a pasture for growing pigs has come to be fully realized, and this only by the most progressive hog raisers. One acre of a good stand of rape will furnish pasture for from fifteen to twenty-five hogs, depending upon its rankness and thriftiness. The plant prefers a moist, cool soil, full of humus, and should be sown in the spring as soon as the danger of frost is over. If broadcasted, from six to eight pounds of seed should be used per acre. If drilled, as is sometimes done, in rows from twenty to thirty inches apart, from three to five pounds will answer. Excellent results are also secured by sowing about five pounds of seed on a part of the land to be devoted to oats and clover, the latter seed being put in after the rape. In this case the rape will germinate and grow slowly until the oats are cut, after which it will grow more rapidly, or the oats, clover and rape patch may be used as a pasture as soon as it gets six or seven inches high, no attempt being made to harvest the grain. Such pasture gives an excellent variety and together with corn and oil meal and such milk or buttermilk as is available makes possible very economical pork production. Rape is sometimes sown with satisfactory results as late as June 15, but it will not do well if the weather is dry during the weeks following.

The chain letter business is one that ought to be discouraged by all sensible people, and it matters not whether it is a prayer chain, postage stamp chain or what not. The proper destination for all of these epistles is the wastebasket or fire, and the sooner they are put there the more quickly will the nuisance end.

Some tests with fertilizers which have been made by the Ohio experiment station show that the addition of forty pounds of acid phosphate to a ton of barnyard manure nearly doubles its value as a crop producer. This fact should be kept in mind by all owners of farms whereon too small an amount of homemade fertilizer is produced.

Readers of these notes who get three square meals daily with a bite between if they want it will have a better idea of what the famine is in portions of northern China when they know that the best fare of these starving people is cakes made of leaves and stems mixed with millet chaff. This has been supplemented by the bark from most of the trees.

The surest as well as simplest way of preserving eggs—and April is the best month in which to do it—is to make a solution by adding one part of water glass (obtainable at any drug store) to about fifteen parts of boiled water. Only fresh and clean eggs should be used, and they should be placed carefully in an earthenware jar previously scalded and the water glass solution poured over them to a sufficient depth to cover. Eggs put up in this way will keep from eight months to a year. If used for boiling later a pin hole should be made in one end of the eggs so used, as the solution makes them air tight, and the pin puncture will keep the eggs from breaking open on boiling.

A Connecticut gardener, a Mr. Shamel, who is of an experimental turn of mind, has hit upon the plan of applying steam to the soil in his tobacco seeds beds. He has found that keeping the beds up to at least 185 degrees F. for an hour very effectually kills the root rot to which the plants are subject and all other forms of fungus life and all weed seeds which the soil may contain. The steam is applied to the soil by being forced into a rectangular pan of the width of the bed and of a convenient length, which is inverted over the portion of the bed to be steamed. The tobacco seed is sown immediately after the treatment, the soil being in the finest possible condition. Plants started in this sterilized soil have proved to be remarkably strong and thrifty. The plan is recommended not only for tobacco seed beds, but those in which any other kind of plants are raised.

It is a good time just now for the residents in rural communities, including the teacher and pupils, to begin to make plans for the improvement and beautifying of the school-house and grounds. If the farm homes of certain neighborhoods offer nothing more attractive to the boys and girls proportionately than does the school property, it is small wonder that before they are out of their teens they want to go to town or city where things are more bright and attractive. Among the things which may be done in improving the condition of things referred to in the country school may be mentioned the setting out of a few native trees, such as the elm and hard maple, while the cottonwood and box elder are a good deal better than nothing and may be planted in sections where the rainfall is limited. Two or three beds of flowers should be arranged, and they will be a queer lot of kids if they cannot be interested in the matter of caring for them. Perhaps some carpenter work is needed on house, woodshed or outhouses, while paint will do still more to brighten things up. On the inside of the school building things may be brightened by a few pictures, copies of the best being obtainable at very low prices.

Every indication up to the time of writing this paragraph, March 15, seems to point to an unusually dry season ahead. Last summer, fall and winter constituted a period of unusual shortage of rainfall for all the central and eastern states, the present condition of drought being the more serious because of the unusual dryness of soil for several feet beneath the surface. The snow and rain fall of a year ago, most of which found its way into the soil, was sufficient to insure the maturing of good crops, but there is no such reservoir of moisture to draw on in the coming months, and unless the clouds yield refreshing moisture the most serious reconditioning confronts both farmer and gardener. There is one way in which the results of such possible condition or drought may be reduced—namely, by such thorough preparation of the soil that the least possible moisture which it contains will be lost. This means that the farmer in the usually humid sections will have to adopt "dry farming" tactics. These include a pulverizing and mellowing of the seed bed by repeated disking and harrowing and later the cultivation of all tilled crops. Many followed these methods last season and greatly increased their crop yields. A much larger number will have to adopt them in the coming months if they are to have any return from their land—this, of course, on the assumption that the present dry weather continues. If the land was plowed last fall it will be the easier to conserve its moisture, but if it was not the need of its preparation for the new crop and careful tillage is all the greater.

A Ship Photographed While She Was Sinking.

The illustrations shown above are reproductions of the remarkable photographs taken of the three masted sailing ship Arden Craig as she was foundering off the Scilly Isles, which are situated twenty-five miles southwest of Land's End, the extreme southwestern point of England, says Popular Mechanics. The first photograph was taken just after the deck became awash, the second as she heeled over for the final plunge and the third a moment or two after she went down. Several hundred people watched the sinking from the shore.

The Particolored Bear.

The particolored bear (Ailuropus melanoleucus) is so rare an animal that it deserves more than passing notice. This particular specimen was acquired by W. N. Fergusson, a missionary in Szechuen, from a Tibetan hunter. Its habitat is the dwarf bamboo and rhododendron forests which clothe the hills at an altitude of from 9,000 to 11,000 feet in this part of China. It is a vegetable feeder. The soles of the feet are hairy, and, though very bearlike in appearance, it has been named the great panda by Sir Ray Lankester, as the structure of the skull and skeleton shows it to be closely related to the Himalayan panda or wuh. It has never been obtained by a European sportsman and was originally discovered in 1869 by Pere David in the mountains of east Tibet. The panda, a very handsomely colored little beast, is the only old world representative of the racoon.

On the Cars.

Here is something that may amuse you some time when you are in the trolley car or elevated train and are beginning to feel tired. Compare the advertisements in the car with the people who are sitting beneath them. The contrast is often very funny. For instance, you may see an elderly gentleman below an advertisement for babies' food, or a baby beneath a shaving soap advertisement, or a very bald person sitting unconsciously beneath a hair tonic sign, or a tramp beneath a soap advertisement. It is fun, too, to read from one advertisement on to the next, as though they belonged together. You may read, for instance, that a certain breakfast food is excellent for the hair or that condensed soup frequently applied will make your garments look like new.

A Queer African Town.

The town of Abu Hamed is located where caravans quit the river Nile and begin their journey across the desert. Merchants leave their merchandise there and load up again with goods that other merchants have left there for them. There is nothing unusual in this, the strange part being that no storehouses or depots are used for the protection of these goods, often of priceless value. The curious story about Abu Hamed is that goods left under the monument dedicated to St. Abu Hamed are safe. Here they remain in the sand beneath the monument for months or years. No one will molest them. They are considered to be under the protection of the saint himself. There has never been known an instance of loss or theft of any goods.

Tree City.

I know a little city on a green and sunny hill,
Where a hundred tiny families have homes.
Its byways are uncrowded, its leafy lanes are still,
And there no noisy railroad ever comes.
The homes are high and airy. They hang daily broad and rock and sway
Whichever way the summer breezes blow.
They have no doors or windows, no roof to blow away,
But leafy awnings shade the babes below.
The fathers and the mothers all earn their daily bread
And bring it to the little ones who cry.
They do not ride or motor; they do not walk; instead
They choose the very latest mode—they fly.
The happy little citizens who live so high and free
They sing and sing and sing the whole day long.
For the peaceful, quiet city is a green and lovely tree,
And the dwellers there are birds, whose life is song.
—St. Nicholas.

Willis, May 3.—Two automobile accidents occurred Sunday. As George Hammond and family were going to church they met an auto and his horses became frightened, breaking the tongue out of his new buggy and doing some other damage. Through the kindness of a neighbor another tongue was put in the buggy and they went to church. They were somewhat shaken up but no one seriously injured.

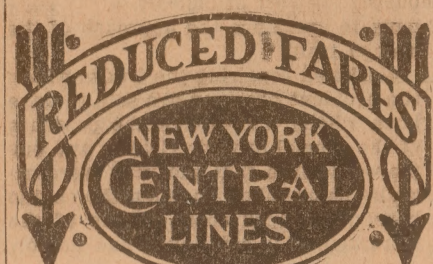

Mrs. Will Day and Mrs. Azro Day and children were returning home Sunday from a drive when Clark Dickerson drove up behind them with an auto which frightened their horse, throwing the occupants into the ditch. Mrs. Azro Day's ankle was badly hurt but luckily no bones broken.

Mrs. Jay Dickerson is very sick. Miss Stuski is working for her. Phil Peppiatt is on the sick list. Gerald Wilson spent his fifth birthday with Mr. and Mrs. Phil Peppiatt.

Being in Debt.

There is a restaurant in New York where the waiters do their level best to make old customers sign checks for meals instead of paying cash. The moment a customer hesitates at sight of the total, or evinces a tendency to count the money in his pocket and sigh, a waiter is sure to coax a pencil into his hand and actually coax him to "hang up" the check.

"Why, of course you ought to sign checks," is the way one of the tempters put it the other day; "nobody accounts to anything in New York till he owes something."

AFTER 7 YEARS SUFFERING

I Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Waurika, Okla.—"I had female troubles for seven years, was all run down, and so nervous I could not do anything. The doctors treated me for different things but did me no good. I got so bad that I could not sleep day or night. While in this condition I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and began its use and wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. In a short time I had gained my average weight and am now strong and well."—Mrs. SALLIE SRYZYS, R. F. D., No. 3, Box 31, Waurika, Okla.

Laxative Sent Free to Try

It may be taken for granted that there is no family of any size that goes very long without needing a laxative. If you don't know of a good laxative, or the laxative you are using is losing its effect, we want to call your attention to Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of families are using successfully.

We have scores of letters from mothers, and scores from prominent men saying they are using it personally and giving it to their families, men like Mr. C. K. Smith of the Traffic Clearing House, Pine Bluff, Ark., and Mr. George B. Turner, a lawyer of Harlan, Ky. The thousands of mothers who use it themselves and give it to their children would take too much space to mention.

The reason they prefer Syrup Pepsin is that it is a mild, gentle laxative—tonic that does not gripe—effective and yet so mild that babies can take it. Its tonic ingredients invigorate the body and strengthen the stomach and bowels muscles so that they again do their work naturally. If you have been a victim of salts, pills and strong cathartics you will discard them when you once use Syrup Pepsin.

You can buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of any druggist, but before doing so you may want to try it free. If so, send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will promptly forward a free sample bottle. Then, being convinced, do as others are doing and buy it in the regular way of your favorite druggist.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Sanitary Plumbing is the First Requisite to a Healthy Home

It does not matter who your plumber may be, if the work he does for you is not sanitary, it is worthless—it isn't worthy. If you let Waterman do your work, you need not worry that it will not be done properly. Only Sanitary and Satisfactory Plumbing is done by my men. Every one is thoroughly experienced in every phase of plumbing, and gives you the very best service possible.

My Prices Are Always the Lowest

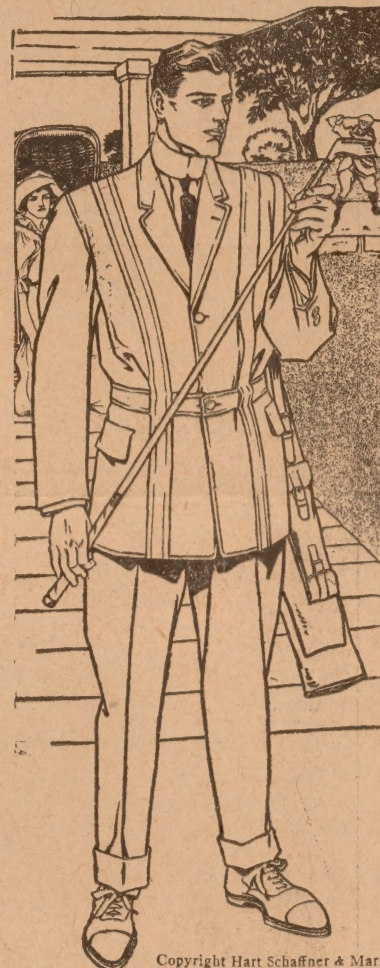

Many people consider plumbers' charges excessive—such is the case with many plumbers—but not with me. I do the very highest class of work, and charge less for it than most plumbers ask for inferior work. Let me prove it to you—phone me when you need attention, and a man will be on the job immediately. And I will guarantee all work done by my men.
